

Give your heart a home

Don Francisco & William J. Gaither © 1981 NEW SPRING, INC.

(Admin. Brentwood-Benson Music Publ.) / William J. Gaither, Inc (Admin. Gaither Copyright Management)

G Gsus G

I hear your hollow laughter
 Your sighs of secret pains
 Pretending and inventing
 Just to hide your shame
 Plastic smiles and faces
 Blinking back the tears
 Empty friends and places
 All magnify your fears.

Ref: If you're tired and weary
 Weak and heavy laden
 I can understand how
 It seems to be alone
 I will take your burden
 If you let me love you
 Wrap my arms around you
 Give your heart a home.

It hurts to watch you struggle
 And try so hard to win
 Betray your precious birthright
 For candy coated sin
 Wasting priceless moments
 Restless and confused
 Building up defences
 For fear that you'll be used.

Take my yoke upon you
 Walk here by my side
 Let me heal your heartaches
 Dry the tears you cried
 Never will I leave you
 Never turn away
 I'll keep you through the darkness
 Lead you through the day.

